

Reflective Lesson Log

Name _____ Date _____ Topic _____

After studying your topic, complete the graphic organizer by listing

- the key ideas you learned in this segment.
- what connection you make with other ideas.
- what questions you still have about the topic.

What are the key ideas from this lesson/discussion/reading?

What connections can I make with other ideas?

What questions do I still have?

Figure 6.28

Source: Adapted from Burke (2005).

Copyright © 2009 by Corwin. All rights reserved. Reproduced from Tools for Teaching in the Block, by Roberta L. Sejnost. Thousand Oaks, CA: Corwin, www.corwinpress.com. Reproduction authorized only for the local school site or nonprofit organization that has purchased this book.

Reflective Lesson Log

Name _____ Date _____ Topic _____

After studying your topic, complete the graphic organizer by listing

- the key ideas you learned in this segment.
- what connection you make with other ideas.
- what questions you still have about the topic.

What are the key ideas from this lesson/discussion/reading?

What connections can I make with other ideas?

What questions do I still have?

Figure 6.28

Source: Adapted from Burke (2005).

Copyright © 2009 by Corwin. All rights reserved. Reproduced from Tools for Teaching in the Block, by Roberta L. Sejnost. Thousand Oaks, CA: Corwin, www.corwinpress.com. Reproduction authorized only for the local school site or nonprofit organization that has purchased this book.